Manager, Bank Scotland,

Dear Sir,

Some time ago I wrote you concerning some maney that a chap drew out of your Bank belong to me. I had an answer from you saying that you were waiting to hear from the Headquarters of the Regiment and then you would reply particulars.

Well, Sir, I have waited to hear from you but it seems that I have waited in vain. I have reported to the Headquarters about it and it seems like they are finished with it, so I am writing to you again to see what you have got to do in the matter. Please reply and let me know particulars. As far as I can make out, you are supposed to pay me ~~for~~ the money.

Please write and let me know what step you are going to take in the matter and oblige me,

The matter is apparently closed as far as you are concerned, and we can only add that in our opinion the rejection of our claim reflects on the administration of a regiment whose rules do not apparently provide for any redress in a case where a charge of fraud and wilful imposition cannot be, and indeed is not, challenged.

I am,

Yours faithfully,
