

A large set of reindeer antlers is mounted on a wall in a forest setting. The antlers are dark and have a complex, branching structure. The background shows a dense forest of trees and foliage, with a large rock in the foreground.

Purcell, Roderick J., Regt. No. 916

Distinguished Conduct Medal

London Gazette, 6th February 1918

Action Date, 9th October 1917 – Broembeek

For conscious gallantry and devotion to duty in an attack. When the advance was held up by an enemy blockhouse, he at once went forward with an officer and captured it, together with a machine gun, two officers, and five other prisoners. He showed great courage and initiative.